Stronger Young People. Healthier Relationships. Brighter Tomorrows.

MWH combines horses, Christian values, Scripture, mentoring, and experiential learning to help young people develop essential social and emotional life skills.

Mentoring with Horses LLC (MWH) serves adolescents and young adults ages 12 & up through structured, relationship-based interaction with horses. The horse becomes a responsive partner in experiences that create natural opportunities for communication, self-awareness, trust, leadership, emotional regulation, resilience, reflection, and practical life application.

WHY COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP MATTERS

MWH's small-group model is intentionally personal and resource-intensive. Community partners help keep participant fees accessible, broaden awareness, strengthen referral pathways, provide useful goods and services, and help MWH serve more young people without sacrificing safety, program quality, or relational depth.

Our Partnership Priorities

- Expand access to Discipleship with Horses (DWH) while maintaining a meaningful participant contribution and responsible scholarship/subsidy model.
- Grow awareness of MWH among churches, schools, homeschool communities, families, youth-serving organizations, and local businesses.
- Develop dependable referral relationships with organizations that encounter young people who could benefit from MWH.
- Build a network of program, scholarship, in-kind, volunteer, and community-awareness partners.
- Measure participation, outcomes, safety, partner support, and financial stewardship with increasing rigor.

OUR PARTNERSHIP STANDARD

We seek relationships that are mission-aligned, transparent, appropriately documented, mutually respectful, and sustainable. We will not overpromise exposure, outcomes, tax treatment, or commercial benefits in exchange for support.

PROGRAM DISTINCTIVE

MWH is not a riding-lesson or horse-training program. The horse-human relationship provides the experiential context; mentoring, reflection, Scripture, and real-life application provide the developmental framework.

A Simple, Measurable Way to Help a Young Person Participate

DWH gives community partners a clear unit of impact and an understandable funding story.

$50	$20	$30	$600
Stated value per DWH session	Participant fee per non-scholarship session	Support needed per session	Support for one participant's full 20-session year

Illustrative Community Sponsorship Opportunities

$30	ONE-SESSION PARTNER	Helps cover the difference between one DWH session's $50 stated value and the $20 participant fee.
$300	SEASON PARTNER	Supports the $30/session gap for one participant across one 10-session Spring or Fall season.
$600	ANNUAL YOUTH PARTNER	Supports the $30/session gap for one participant across the full 20-session DWH year.
$3,000	COMMUNITY IMPACT PARTNER	Equivalent to the annual DWH subsidy requirement for five participants.

IMPORTANT

These sponsorship levels describe the practical program impact of support. MWH is an LLC and does not represent direct payments to MWH as tax-deductible charitable contributions. Each partner should rely on its own tax and accounting advisers regarding the treatment of any payment or in-kind support.

Choose the Form of Partnership That Fits Your Organization

YOUTH SPONSOR	Help underwrite DWH participation for one or more young people.
PROGRAM PARTNER	Support a defined Spring/Fall DWH season, SHE session, program need, or special initiative.
IN-KIND PARTNER	Provide useful goods or professional services that reduce approved operating or program costs.
REFERRAL PARTNER	Help appropriate families, youth leaders, churches, schools, homeschool groups, and organizations discover MWH.
VOLUNTEER / SERVICE PARTNER	Organize appropriately screened service support for facility, events, administrative, or program-related needs.
AWARENESS PARTNER	Share MWH opportunities through approved community, employee, church, or organizational communication channels.

Recognition Philosophy

We want to recognize community partners with genuine gratitude while keeping the focus on young people and the mission. Depending on the relationship, recognition may include approved name/logo acknowledgment, website or social-media thanks, inclusion in an impact update, or other mutually agreed recognition. Any commercial advertising arrangement should be documented separately and accurately.

PARTNERSHIP CAN BE FINANCIAL — BUT IT DOESN'T HAVE TO BE

A strong community partnership may provide referrals, volunteers, expertise, printing, materials, equipment, professional services, awareness, or introductions. We want to build relationships around the real strengths and interests of each partner.
